PLANETARY HERBALS INTRODUCES CILANTRO HEAVY METAL DETOX

Contains Chlorella for Additional Cleansing Action

SCOTTS VALLEY, Calif. – You may know it as a delicious herb used in salads and tacos; now meet cilantro as a way to cleanse and detoxify, to benefit your entire body. Planetary Herbals presents Cilantro Heavy Metal Detox, a natural detoxifier that may help cleanse the blood of heavy metals.

Planetary Herbals herbalist Roy Upton says, “Cilantro is one of the primary botanicals used to help clear heavy metals from the system. Recent studies show that constituents in cilantro attach to metals in the blood stream.” He explains, “This process, called chelation, helps the metals to be eliminated from the system through various pathways of excretion such as the kidneys and liver.”

Upton says that metal detoxification is crucial in the modern world. “Facilitating the detoxification of metals is of growing importance because there is greater awareness of how prevalent metals are in our environment and how many can negatively affect us.”

Cilantro, also known as Chinese parsley or Mexican parsley, has gained worldwide recognition. The herb so beloved by gourmets has actually been used in Asia and Africa since 900 B.C. It was used by pharaohs, Roman soldiers and Chinese herbalists. It is now being rediscovered by modern health practitioners.

Cilantro Heavy Metal Detox includes chlorella, a single-celled micro algae. Upton explains, “Chlorella has been used as an internal cleansing agent for decades and modern research has shown that, like cilantro, chlorella is also a powerful metal chelator and it works synergistically with cilantro to eliminate potentially toxic metals from the body.”
